Step 1: Family, Teacher, School Counselor

Tell your family, teacher, or school counselor that you are interested in CIE. Have them help you answer these 4 questions:

1. Should you work toward a high school diploma or a certificate of completion?
2. Would you like to continue your education after high school and then find a job or just find a job after high school?
3. What kind of jobs would you like?
4. What job skills do you already have and what job skills do you need?

Your family and school staff can help you tell your Individualized Education Program (IEP) case manager that you are interested in CIE. They can also help you tell your IEP team what you discovered about yourself from answering the four questions above.

ACRONYMS ON THIS PAGE:

CIE – Competitive Integrated Employment

SSI – Supplemental Security Income

Yes, getting a job can change your SSI income and your Medi-Cal health benefits.

2. How can a job change my SSI and Medi-Cal?

There are many ways a job can change your SSI and Medi-Cal. The most common change is a job will lower your SSI check and it may or may not change your Medi-Cal. See the example on the next page.

1. Can a CIE job change my Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and my Medi-Cal health benefits? (2 of 2)

EXAMPLE: Here is a person who works and because she works her SSI check is less, but she makes more money and she keeps her Medi-Cal.

Before Jill worked, she got an SSI check for $830 a month.

Now, Jill makes $500 a month doing food prep for a restaurant.

Social Security will take out $207.50 from her SSI check,

So now Jill's SSI check will be $622.50 a month

Jill makes $$622.50 + $500 = $1122.50$ a month and she keeps her Medi-Cal.

The Ticket to Work

The Ticket to Work program is a program where Social Security gives you a “Ticket.” You can use the ticket to get services and jobs you need from an employment network. An employment network can be a small organization or business or a large State agency like the Department of Rehabilitation that help you find a job and keep a job.

If you have a Ticket you can:

- Contact a network to talk about what services you need.
- Use your Network as A Team to make a work plan to help with a job goal.

PASS – Plan to Achieve Self-Support

Plan to Achieve Self Support (PASS)

PASS – Is a plan approved by Social Security that allows you to save some of the money that you earn from a job and any other money you get. It can be used for services and/or things you need to work.

For example, if you receive SSI, or other money, you could save some of that money to pay for education, work skills training, assistive technology, or starting a business, as long as the money is spent on working toward your job goal.

Plan to Achieve Self Support (PASS) (continued)

To get the PASS Incentive your plan must:

- Be made especially for you.
- Be in writing.
- Have a work goal that you are able to do.
- Have a set time to finish your work goal.
- Show what money you receive (other than your SSI payments).
- Show how you will use your money to reach your work goal.
- Be approved by Social Security.

ACRONYMS ON THIS PAGE:
IRWE – Impairment Related
Work Expense

Impairment Related Work Expenses (IRWE)

IRWE is a work incentive plan. Social Security will not count the IRWE (money you use to pay for something or to someone so you can work) from the money you earn. Examples of IRWE are:

- Transportation
- Personal assistant
- Medications

They can be subtracted as long as:

2. Where can I find more information about SSI and Medi-Cal? (8 of 8)

Impairment Related Work Expenses (IRWE) (continued)

- The items or services helps you to work;
- You need the items or services because of a physical or mental disability;
- You pay for the items or services and are not reimbursed by another source such as Medicare, Medicaid, or a private insurance carrier; and
- The cost is “reasonable”, that is, it is what most people pay for the item or service.

Social Security will subtract your IRWE costs from the money you make from your job to figure out what your monthly SSI payment should be.

3. What happens if your SSI check stops because you make too much money? (1 of 2)

Expedited Reinstatement (EXR)

If you are not getting an SSI check anymore because you make too much money from your job and then you suddenly lose your job, you can get your SSI check back quickly through Expedited Reinstatement (EXR).

You can get EXR if:

- You have been getting SSI checks for at least one month, which most people with an intellectual or developmental disability (IDD) have.
- You qualify for the Medicaid needs test which most people with IDD do.

3. What happens if your SSI check stops because you make too much money? (2 of 2)

Expedited Reinstatement (EXR) (continued)

- You make less than the California's SSI and Medicaid threshold, which most people with IDD do. For more information about the threshold go to the most current Redbook
- You have money that you did not work for, that is less than the federal benefit rate (FBR) for one person. For more information about the FBR go to the most current Redbook.
- Your SSI benefits have been stopped for less than 5 years.

If you qualify for EXR, you can get up to 6 months of temporary SSI checks while Social Security figures out the correct amount of SSI to give you.

4. What kind of job accommodations can I ask for? (1 of 3)

ACRONYMS ON THIS PAGE

ADA – American Disabilities Act

Job Accommodations - means changes at your job made by your boss that makes it easier for you to work at your job. There is a law called the American with Disabilities Act (ADA) that tells employers that they have to make these changes so people with disabilities can work and be comfortable while they work.

Examples of job accommodations are:

- Wheelchair Ramps
- Extra work space for a wheel chair or for a job coach

Some Local Education Agencies (LEAs) have a Workability I (WAI) program for students that have an IEP. Ask your school or school district if they have a WAI program. WAI helps a student:

- Discover what job skills a student has and needs
- Learn job skills
- Look for a job
- Apply for a job
- Make a resume
- Interview for a job
- In try-out jobs where the student gets paid
- Volunteer at a business for experience
- By giving job support to help a student be successful at their job

Step 3 : Transition Partnership Program (TPP)

Some Local Education Agencies have a Transition Partnership Program (TPP). This program can give students with IDD job readiness skills. Ask your school or school district if they have a TPP.

TPP helps a student:

- Learn about jobs you would like,
- Learn job skills,
- Get on-the-job training, and more.
