Summary of December 2025 Statewide Self-Advocacy Network (SSAN) Meeting

SSAN Meeting Date and Location: The Statewide Self-Advocacy Network (SSAN) held virtual meetings on December 10 & 11, 2025, over Zoom.

Summary of Meeting:

Day one began with a moment of silence for Alice Wong, a Bay Area disability rights activist who passed away. Following the moment of silence, members provided updates on local self-advocacy efforts and their favorite holiday traditions. Highlights of advocacy efforts included: hosting trainings; meeting with elected officials to advocate for issues important to the disability community; participating in Master Plan on Developmental Services implementation efforts; serving on panels; and attending regional center board meetings. Favorite holiday traditions mentioned included: spending time with friends and family; attending holiday celebrations; shopping, and cooking seasonal holiday foods, such as tamales and latkes.

Aaron Carruthers, SCDD Executive Director, provided members with an update on SCDD activity since the September Meeting. This update included changes to MediCal and CalFresh, as well as the development of SCDD's next 5-year State Plan. Starting in January 2026, CalFresh will have additional work requirements, but people with disabilities should be able to qualify for exemptions. Changes to MediCal are delayed until 2027. Members were encouraged to review the proposed plan and provide comments using the SCDD State Plan Public Comment Survey.

Chris Arroyo, SCDD Deputy Director of Policy and Public Affairs, presented the fourth and final segment of the Systemic Advocacy Leadership Academy (SALA) training for SSAN members. This item covered how ideas become laws and the different ways advocates can participate in the process. Members of the public can work with an organization or directly with their elected officials to submit ideas for legislation, share their lived experiences by writing letters, calling their elected officials, and/or providing testimony during hearings.

Jennifer Lucas, SCDD Regional Manager, Central Coast Office and Yolanda Cruz, SCDD Regional Manager, San Diego and Imperial Office, provided a sensory-friendly emergency preparedness training. This agenda item reviewed the eight senses that people experience and explained why some people may experience sensory overload during an emergency.

SELF-ADVOCATES ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Summary of December 2025 Statewide Self-Advocacy Network (SSAN) Meeting

Ideas to prevent or reduce sensory overload included, having access to communication supports; creating sensory-friendly kits with items like ear plugs and fidgets; providing extra time for people to process information; and training emergency response staff on disability awareness.

Day one ended with members sharing their favorite parts of the day.

Day two began with members sharing their hopes for the new year. Hopes and resolutions included: prioritizing mental and physical health, improving work-life balance, meeting new people, and advocating for positive change in their communities.

Members reflected on the year's accomplishments highlighted in the SSAN Annual Report. During the 2024-2025 federal fiscal year, members used information from SSAN meetings to create and host leadership trainings, speak at conferences and events, and partnered with regional offices to provide training and outreach. Other accomplishments included SSAN hosting 3 virtual webinars over the year and publishing quarterly newsletters.

Members discussed the challenges of participating in SSAN meetings and other self-advocacy activities while managing life demands, such as attending medical appointments, maintaining their health, meeting personal and work-related obligations, and dealing with Zoom fatigue. Members highlighted the importance of ensuring members and attendees feel included at meetings, which can be hard to accomplish in virtual settings. Some members reported preferring the convenience of online meetings, while others preferred in-person meetings for better collaboration and networking. Overall, members expressed the need for future meetings to be flexible and accommodate both in-person and virtual participation.

Ellen Sweigert, SSAN Secretary and North Bay Regional Representative provided a presentation on the different types of advocates. The presentation provided definitions, approaches, and tools used by individual focused advocates, self-advocate ambassadors, community self-advocates, nonprofit advocates, and self-advocate peer leaders. Members shared which type of advocate they identify as, and several members noted that they identified with multiple types, depending on the situation.

About SCDD

The California State Council on Developmental Disabilities (SCDD) is established by state law (the Lanterman Developmental Disabilities Services Act, or Lanterman Act) and federal laws (the Developmental Disabilities Assistance or DD Act, and Bill of Rights Act of 2000) and is one of 56 State Councils on Developmental Disabilities within the U.S. and its territories. SCDD belongs to the National Association for Councils on Developmental Disabilities (NACDD), which provides guidance and support to all 56 Councils. Growing and supporting self-advocacy is a core principle for every State Council, as identified in the DD Act.

SCDD is committed to advancing self-advocacy efforts in California and designated self-advocacy as the focus of its first goal in the 2022-2026 five-year state plan. SCDD established the Statewide Self-Advocacy Network (SSAN) in 2012 to meet its commitment to support and strengthen an organization led by individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities, which develops and promotes leadership skills and expands participation in cross-disability coalitions.

By supporting SSAN, SCDD aims to: 1) train self-advocates throughout California to advocate for their civil and service rights; 2) advance meaningful participation and integration of self-advocates in their chosen communities; and 3) encourage and support SSAN members to become leaders in their local communities and across the state.

About SSAN

The Statewide Self Advocacy Network (SSAN) promotes leadership and builds bridges that strengthen advocacy within disability communities by focusing on policy and systems change.

Vision Statement

SSAN is a network of self-advocates that was established in 2012 and works to do the following:

- Develop the knowledge and skills to make a difference in our local regions and across the state
- Speak up with and for people with all kinds of disabilities
- Learn about and advocate for issues important to all people with disabilities
- Collaborate and organize with other regional and statewide advocacy groups and networks
- Help the Self-Advocacy movement in California grow by training self-advocates in their communities
- Share information about programs, resources, and support available for people with disabilities

Message from SSAN Leadership

We would like to take this opportunity to thank you, our fellow SSAN members, for voting for us as your leaders during such a challenging time.

To be a leader means to be patient, have a sense of responsibility, and to be a motivational public speaker. Leaders serve as inspirations and role models for others. Leaders should also be humble, kind, and willing to share their experiences and include others in their efforts. These are just a few thoughts that came up during the transition meeting with the 2022-2024 leaders.

Developing leadership skills is an important part of strengthening self-advocacy. Leaders can use their platforms to highlight issues members are experiencing and to share resources and information about what is happening in their communities. Building leadership skills help advocates to develop confidence, and become consistent, relatable, and reliable leaders who can motivate others. We are honored to have this opportunity to apply the skills we have developed over the years so we can help lead this network.

Here are key areas we would like to focus on in order to grow SSAN over the next two (2) years:

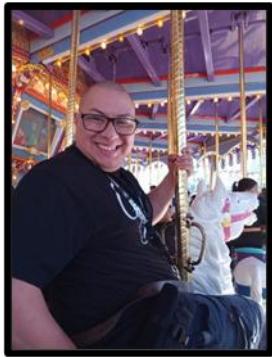

- Expand SSAN to become a true cross-disability network
- Encourage members to advocate for themselves and communities
- Develop knowledge of advocacy tools
- Increase outreach and awareness of SSAN
- Promote mentorship and sharing of responsibilities
- Explore new ways for members to engage locally
- Inspire and train new leaders
- Connect with and educate the younger generations about the self-advocacy movement

Thank you again for trusting us to be the elected leaders of SSAN. We look forward to working with you to strengthen and expand the self-advocacy movement in California. We hope you will join us.

Sincerely,

Rebecca Donabed, SSAN Chair

Eric Aguilar, SSAN Vice-Chair

Ellen Sweigert, SSAN Secretary

In October 2024, over 150 people registered and over 30 people attended SSAN's second virtual event recognizing National Disability Employment Awareness Month (NDEAM) "Access to Good Jobs for People with Disabilities: Resources and Supports for Your Future". Attendees appreciated hearing from representatives from the Department of Rehabilitation, Progressive Employment Concepts, and Resources for Independence Central Valley about resources available to help in the search for employment.

In March 2025, over 650 people registered and over 100 people attended SSAN's second Developmental Disability Awareness Month event called "The Choices We Make Together: Understanding Limited Conservatorships and Less Restrictive Alternatives". The event included presentations from Disability Rights California (DRC), the UC Davis MIND Institute, CalABLE, as well as SSAN members who shared their experiences using different support tools.

In July 2025, SSAN hosted its first virtual event celebrating Disability Pride Month. The title of the event was "Still Rising: 35 Years of Disability Rights and Pride". The event featured a combination of video clips, reflections, and discussions. Videos shown included "History of Our Community", "Do Disabled People Really Have the Same Rights?", and "PBS Medicaid Cuts". Over 70 people registered for and over 60 attended the event. It was a great success. People appreciated the chance to learn about the organizing efforts of the disability rights movement.
